Ten years of the Resilient Cities Congress

SUMMARY & CLOSING PLENARY

Measuring a decade-long progress
Addressing the future of urban resilience

Summary remarks - 10th Resilient Cities Congress

Special Address

Announcements - The Road Ahead

Responses and conclusions

Summary remarks on 10TH Resilient Cities Congress

- Nicola Tollin, Professor WSR on Urban Resilience, University of Southern Denmark, Odense, Denmark

MAIN THEMATIC STREAMS AT RESILIENT CITIES 2019

Climate Emergency

“As you gather in Bonn, the need for climate resilience becomes ever more urgent. We need to ensure vulnerable urban and rural communities have better housing and climate resilient infrastructure.”

Maimunah Mohd Sharif, UN
Habitat Executive Director

10 years of resilience collaboration

“Building more resilient cities means nothing less than investing in our future”

Martin Frick, Senior
Director, UN Climate Change

CiBiX

Science-policy dialogue

Finance forum

“If you have money, you can develop feasibility studies and make the business case. If you want money, you need to develop feasibility studies and make the business case.”

Liana Strydom, Assistant
Director, Development Planning,
Johannesburg City

Nature-based solutions for a resilient development

“Blue and green infrastructure strategy highlights how we can use nature for the benefit of our cities”

Humberto Delgado Rosa,
Director for Natural Capital, DG
Environment, European Commission

Circular development

"Baltimore confronted both social and environmental challenges through a deconstruction program employing 75% of former inmates, thereby creating circular jobs for vulnerable residents"

Anne Draddy, Sustainability
Coordinator, City of Baltimore

Resilient food systems

“One day a week with all Bonn inhabitants eating a meatless diet will save the same emissions, per year, as taking 10,000 cars from the streets. We need to do both!”

Reyes Tirado, Science
Advisor, Greenpeace

Insurance and risk management

“An integrated approach, understanding, preventing, reducing and transferring risk is key to effective climate risk management. Through the collaboration between UN insurers and ICLEI, we have created an effective platform for insurers and LGs to engage and build resilience”

Butch Bacani, Program Leader, UN Environment PSI

Disaster risk reduction and MCR campaign consultation

“The Making Cities Resilient Campaign was launched here in 2010 and Bonn was the first city to be a part of that campaign. It is fascinating and a bit terrifying to see how the work of resilient cities has grown.”

Mami Mizutori, Head of UNDRR

Resilient Cities 2019 proceedings

Special Congress Sessions at Resilient Cities 2019

Special Joint Event on Multilevel Action COP24 Presidency, ICLEI and UNFCCC

“Let’s Drive Change Together!”

Michal Kurtyka, COP24
President

Mayors' Lunch

Mami Mizutori, UNDRR

Pradeep Monga, UNCCD

High Level Dinner

From Katowice to Santiago de Chile
